Will Open Bids May 25 On 228th Street Drain

Work is slated to start soon on the 228th Street storm drain near Torrance following approval of plans and specifications for the project, Supervisor Burton W. Chace has disclosed.

In calling for bids on the drainage facility, the Board of Supervisors set May 25 for opening proposals in the offices of Flood Control District Chief Engineer M. E. Salsbury.

Plans for the drainage facility, expected to siphon water from adjacent low spots, were prepared under the direction of Los Angeles City Engineer Lyall A. Pardee. Construction will be supervised by the Flood Control District, and the agency will also operate and maintain the drain upon completion.

Chace said estimates place cost of the work at about a half million dollars.

The drain is situated in City of Los Angeles territory and a portion also overlaps into unincorporated county area.

Routing starts at the Harbor Freeway east of Vermont Avenue, runs northwest in rights of way to Vermont and 228th Street, west to 228th to Tomlinson Road, northwest in additional rights of way to Normandie Avenue and 227th Street, and north in Normandie to 223rd Street.

THE SUPERVISOR said the drain includes about a mile of gunite-lined trapezoidal channel, reinforced concrete box

COST OF THE project was included in the $225-million storm drain bond issue which won voter approval in 1958. The Flood Control District is constructing 184 drains in various locations throughout the county as a part of the program.

Supervisor Chace added that construction of the 228th Street drain will start two or three weeks after a contract is awarded and is due for completion seven months later.
